First brought to Houston in 2008, by the Houston Parks and Recreation Department, the Metal and Muscle Expo introduces sports and recreation options as ways for people with disabilities to be physically active. Participants and visitors will experience wheelchair versions of rugby, basketball, and racing, as well as challenge slalom, sitting volleyball, judo for the blind, air guns, and boccia. The event is completely free and open to the public. For additional information, please visit <http://www.texasregionalparalympicsport.org/metal-and-muscle>.

The Houston Parks and Recreation Department (H.P.A.R.D.) stewards and manages over 37,851 acres of parkland and greenspace for the City of Houston and develops and implements recreational programming for citizens of all abilities.
