Why now?

During this unprecedented time, we need to ensure continuity of learning for all adult learners. Too many remote learning tools leave the majority of learners behind due to prevailing access, literacy, and digital divides. To meet this need, Cell-Ed is offering a limited number of seats to education providers to deliver 1,000+ hours of literacy, language and work skills learning, certification and coaching.

1 in 6 adults can't read, 1 in 4 lack digital access, 1 in 2 need essential skills
99% of solutions aren't designed for them

How Cell-Ed can deliver remote learning to all

Cell-Ed is designed to reach learners on any device - from call in to smartphone apps to table or computer web browser and we start with basic literacy, language and work skills and build from there. Easy to access 24/7 micro-lessons integrate essential skills for life and work that lead to certification and more. We pair every learner with a live multilingual coach to individualize learning. And, we can convert partner content - "Cell-Edify" and customize options to optimize engagement and effectiveness.
