Eval. Notes:

INTAKE

med white dog staying in front of her door it was jumping and barking at her. Caller is afraid and waiting in the car. Her daughter is home alone.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Chole holds a wagging tail and is pawing at the front of the kennel door with a wiggly body. I offered treats which she took readily and then walked out with a high tail and slight trot until she pottied. Noticed that after placing her back, she started to whimper and vocalize almost the whole day as I passed by but was redirected by treats also. When customers or other vet techs would pass by, she started to forward bark non-stop with a tense body, helicopter tail, and dilated pupils without being able to redirect with treats this time around. Covered part of her kennel door and gave extra enrichment as well as tried to keep her busy with a frozen treat.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Very vocal in kennel ; erupts with barking as soon as citizens walk into the building.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

High energy, fast wagging tail, shaking body off once taken outside to the runs. When placed in the run, dog is constantly barking and pacing the fence. The inside and outside bars of her kennel have to be covered. Dog may need to be placed in a Dog Adoption kennel.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Chole is jumping up on her kennel with a high tail wag, open mouth, and dilated pupils. I offer treats once I opened the kennel door which she took readily and then held a relaxed body as I carried her down. Once placed in the run, she paces from side to side while vocalizing after leaving her there and also after she goes potty. Upon placing her back, I re-covered both side of her kennel due to her forward barking at customers with dilated pupils as they walk by her display window.

Eval. Notes:

INTAKE

Dog is only aggressive when I stepped towards a older man. Dog sits and walks well on leash.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Casino is sitting with content body language. I opened the kennel leashing him and he walked out. As we walked outside, he was strong on leash pulling forward and had to redirect him back to me multiple times. I placed him in a run and he immediately pottied. A dog in the run next to him began to low growl at him but he showed no interest in the dog. When retrieving him he walked a lot looser and calmer. I walked him back inside and placed him in a kennel.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Casino was at the front of kennel with wiggly body and fast wagging tail. I easily leashed him and he walked out loosely. On the way to the runs he walked on a tight leash but i was able to slow him down with treats. In the runs, he had the same body language and quickly went potty. Coming back inside, he seemed more relaxed and walked on a loosely leash.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Cansino greets me at kennel door, once leashed he tries to walk out forward on the leash . I have to slow him down and does not work. He does not care for treats on the leash . I decided to place him in the chicken coop due to how much he pull on the leash. Once I came back to leash him back up he was very jumpy on me and aroused. I stood still and tried to let him stop before walking forward once he did he pulled forward on the leash . Walked him back to his kennel and covered the kennel. Will continue to monitor. 04/23/24 13:22

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Casino presents a wiggly body with a fast wagging tail, and floppy ears. when i took him out for a walk, he kept pulling on the leash, and i offered him treats but he would not take them , i stopped walking and thats how i got him to slow down. while he was at the runs, he kept running back and fourth with the dogs next to him in the runs. In kennel he has been quiet and playing with his enrichment.

Eval. Notes:*BEHAVIOR NOTE

Dog came in as a move adopt and was very slowly walking with whale eyes, tense body, and a low hanging tail. He went inside of the kennel holding pursed lips and began to lift up his paw as he sat down. When I would spot clean his kennel, he would rush to the other side with a worried facial expression. Upon moving him to another kennel, Dog paced from side to side and backed up as I got closer until I slowly leashed him (dog ignored treats throughout the whole interaction). Upon leashing, dog began to thrash and backed up under the endcap kennel but I got him out to muzzle and carry him into his new kennel. Dog vocalizes throughout the day even after given different types of extra enrichment . He seems to eat the wet food so we prepared him some wet food frozen treats to keep him busy as well as covered his kennel door.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Dog was laying down on the newspaper with neutral body language. He held a worried expression, and sat up on his bottom when I began to open the kennel door. He moved to the back of the kennel, very aware of my movements. He was slightly trembling as I offered chicken from my fingers. He did not take the chicken so I left it in front of him, on the paper. When I walked away and returned, the chicken had been eaten. I leashed him slowly and he looked behind at the window. He was licking his lips alot and yawned. I grabbed a blanket and covered his entire body. Holding the leash in my right hand, I used my left hand to bring him closer to my chest and lift him up. He was very tense and tried wiggling out of my arm. I placed him on the ground and led him out to the grass. He circled the grass, moving away from me with a tucked tail. I walked him back inside after he continued trying to flee / thrash. I picked him up and placed him back inside his kennel. I placed more chicken pieces in his bowl, on top of his kibble. As I walked away, I heard the kibble and chicken being eaten out of the bowl.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Henry sat up quickly after I uncovered his kennel door and began to babytalk. I offered some treats which he ignored and began to back up with dilated pupils and pursed lips while lip licking a few times, avoiding eye contact, as well as lifting up his front paw. I cleaned around him since he kept avoiding getting closer to me. Later in the day when checking ID bands, I offered wet food which he took a few times but then began to ignore again after leashing him in which he held a very tense body. Upon attempting to check his ID band, dog began to flinch, turn towards my hand, and liplicks even more. Re-covered his kennel door and gave extra enrichment.

Eval. Notes:*BEHAVIOR NOTE

This dog is postured with the hips down, tail between her legs, whale eyes, and ears back as I approach the kennel. she retreats to the back of the kennel but lets me put the leash on her. As I walk her I had to go slow and give her time when she got over-stimulated. She was very receptive to treats so much so I could coerce her to keep moving by giving her treats when she got overwhelmed. she would flinch when people would move too fast near her or at loud noises. I had to lay out treats into her kennel to get her to go back in.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, June is standing near kennel door with content body language. I opened the kennel leashing her and she walked out the kennel. She maintained a loose body as I walked her outside and placed her in a run. She was very interested in the dogs in the runs next to her immediately walking up to them and eventually running side by side with them.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

When I approached to his kennel, he was lying in the floor with tense body, I tossed treats to leash him up but he refuse walks he makes pancakes all time so I muzzle him to carry him and move to the new kennel.

Walked with loose leash back into kennel , squeezed into kennel next to me as I dropped treats on his blanket and remained leaning on my leg as I pulled off leash , stepped out and shut door.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

As we walked out with a loose leash until we got outside he would stop to look around then pull back. I would drop treats to help direct him to the run he refused to take the treats. Once we got inside the run he tucked his tail under and picked his front paw up and started growling and ran off with the leash.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

When I approached his kennel, he was standing at the front of his kennel with a neutral body. I squatted down and offered him treats through the door. He sniffed them, but didn't eat them. I opened the door and tried to leash him. He slowly moved his head away from the leash, but on the second try he didn't move his head. He walked outside with a tense body, whale eyes, and a tucked tail. While walking, he would stop frequently and wouldn't respond to treats or baby talking to keep walking, I just had to wait. Once we got to the run I crouched down and let him sniff the back of my hand . He did so with soft facial features so I reached out and took off his leash and he went into the run . When I went back out to the run to retrieve him, he was at the back of the run and ran to me when I called out to him. As he got closer, he slowed down a bit and hesitantly walked himself into the leash loop. He walked on a loose leash by my side on the way back in. Once in his kennel, I crouched down and he sniffed me. His body was tense and he started lip licking so I didn't try to take of the leash and left him alone.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

When I approached to his kennel, Felipe was waiting front his door, Using baby talk I leash him up. I was stroking his head and gave him pieces of hot dog in his mouth. Then I walk with him to take him outside. He walked with loose leash and body relaxed. In the runs Felipe took opportunity to do the potty and when I returned him to the kennel, he came in calmly so I just give him some chicken.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

In the run he didn't let me take off the leash instead he ran away with the leash on. When i tried to get it off of him he tensed up with one paw up and tail tucked . Walking back he still would pull away. He didn't want to go into his kennel, so i went first then he still didnt want too until he seen treats on his kuranda bed.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Walking the row for spot cleaning, Titan was hitting the divider and had to toss treats to the kennel to distract him away from the divider.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Titan has not been hitting on the divider today . When i am standing by his kennel, he will jump on the kennel door, trying to see over the cover, but with four on the floor he gets down. he presents a wiggly body, fast wagging tail, and a soft expressive face. he walked on a loose leash to the runs, taking all treats that i offered him. when we got to the run, he immediately went to potty. he also keeps his kennel clean.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

When approaching kennel I observed that he kept his kennel clean throughout the night, he greeted me at the front of kennel with a loose wiggly body, fast wagging tail, medium open mouth pant, perked ears and low whimpering. As he was leashed and began walking he walked on a semi-loose leash but could be redirected with treats, but had to be placed on the floor as he can take them a little rough. Once in the runs he used the restroom and would go up to others sniffing them with a erect wagging tail, perked ears and whimpering then walked away. Later when returned to kennel he remained laying in his bed quietly.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel, Titan was very wiggly and seemed playful. when on leash, dog does pull but maintains a wiggly body. Dog tends to take any treats. Dog tends to ignore other dogs.

BEHAVIOR NOTE

Approaching kennel this morning, Titan greeted me with a relax wiggly body, nuetral face and high wagging tail. Titan walks well on a loose leash but will sometimes pull but is also very easy to redirect with treats while walking to the runs or kennel. When other dogs are barking, Titan just ignores them and will just keep on walking out of the row .
