

GENERAL FUND RESOURCES SUMMARY

The General Fund is the City of Houston's largest operating fund. With total resources of $3.1 billion budgeted in FY2023, this fund relies heavily on various forms of revenue to finance its operations. As illustrated below, approximately 69% percent of the total resources in the General Fund are from taxes, mainly property and sales taxes.

Property Taxes

General property taxes are ad valorem taxes levied on the assessed valuation of real and personal property. Taxable values for all real and personal property within the City, depending on their locations, are established by the Harris County Appraisal District (HCAD), Montgomery County Appraisal District (MCAD) or Fort Bend County Appraisal District (FBCAD), collectively County Appraisal Districts (CAD), based upon market values as of January 1st. City Council approves exemptions such as homestead, 65 and over, disabled as well as Freeport exemptions and then sets a tax rate according to the state law. The current tax rate for Tax Year 2021 (FY2022) for the City of Houston is 55.083 cents per $100 of taxable value.

Based upon the adopted tax rate set by Council and taxable value as assessed by CAD, tax bills are generated and sent to taxpayers by the Harris County Tax Office around mid-November. Payment is due by January 31st of the following year. Taxes not paid by the due date are delinquent and subject to penalties and interest charges. Taxpayers who wish to appeal values set by CAD may do so if taxes on the uncontested value are paid timely.

Occasionally, taxes are overpaid as a result of errors in appraisal or an overpayment by a taxpayer. The Harris County Tax Office refunds such payments based upon the Texas Property Tax Code and documentation supplied by the taxpayers. Fluctuations in collections reflect changes in assessed property values, collection efforts, and tax rate.

The FY2023 property tax value is based on the Certified Estimate provided by CAD to the City on April 28, 2022. FY2023 value is $289.0 billion, which is net of the current senior/disabled exemption of $160,000. The estimated taxable value is then reduced by the estimated incremental value of properties within the Tax Increment Reinvestment Zones (TIRZ). The taxable value net of TIRZ is estimated at $246.2 billion.

Below is a graph showing the ten-year history of property taxable values in Houston, with the $289.0 billion estimate shown for FY2023.

Property Tax Collections

In November 2004, Proposition No. 1 was passed amending the City Charter to limit the annual increase in total ad valorem tax revenues. The increase is capped at the lower of the increase in Consumer Price Index (CPI) plus the growth in population or 4.5% over the prior fiscal year. In addition, in November 2006, Proposition H was passed to further increase the applicable revenue limitations by $90 million.

The FY2023 property tax revenue estimate is derived according to Proposition 1 and Proposition H. Population data from the Census Bureau as of July 1, 2021 has yet to be received. Therefore, the Finance Department applied the 2021 inflation rate of 4.2826% and 0% for population growth for purposes of calculating Proposition 1. This results in a net revenue estimate of $1.28 billion. This revenue is an increase of $48.9 million or 3.97% from the estimated FY2022 revenue of $1.23 billion. The property tax rate will be adjusted accordingly to levy revenues no higher than the Proposition 1 and Proposition H limitation and the limitations imposed by Senate Bill 2.

The Proposition 1 and Proposition H revenue limitation is calculated with the following assumptions.

Sales Tax

General sales and use taxes are imposed upon the sale or consumption of certain goods and services at the point of sale. In the City of Houston, a $0.0825 sales and use tax is applied for every dollar of sales. The Metropolitan Transit Authority (METRO) receives $0.01, and the State of Texas receives $0.0625. The State Comptroller remits a $0.01 share to the City, after withholding a 2% service charge.

The sales tax projections are derived from econometric models which take into account the sectors of the Houston economy and estimates of employment, income, oil prices, population, and Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area (PMSA) retail sales.

The FY2023 budget amount of $806.9 million assumes no growth from the FY2022 estimate. This estimate reflects an improvement to economic conditions compared to FY2021, which was severely impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic that affected our national and global economy. Employment is the key driver of sales tax revenue, including consumer sales and business to business sales. Historically, the sales tax has responded in an immediate manner to changes in our employment growth and/or decline. According to Dr. Gilmer, stimulus efforts will dissipate in 2022 regressing Houston to operate under normal economic conditions. Although the energy sector has contributed significantly to Houston's economy the ongoing volatility of the Russian invasion of Ukraine has caused uncertainty among the oil industry. The growth of employment levels for the region continues to be a contributing factor to the City's positive outlook.

The following graph provides a seven-year comparison of the City's Sales Tax revenue.

Industrial District Assessments

The City of Houston has Industrial District Contract Agreements with more than 100 companies located within the Houston Extra-Territorial Jurisdiction (ETJ), for a period of fifteen years. A contractually reduced ad valorem assessed valuation fee is calculated and billed annually to each company in lieu of the property being annexed and subject to City of Houston property taxes. Industrial District Assessments are based on current year property values provided by HCAD. The City expects to collect $24.4 million in FY2023.

Mixed Beverage Tax

Following the end of each calendar month, the State Comptroller allocates 10.7143% of the mixed beverage tax received to the counties and cities.

Mixed beverage tax allocation amounts are dependent upon the timing and accuracy of taxpayer's returns and payments, but generally represent taxes remitted to the Comptroller's Office during the calendar month, immediately preceding the month the allocation is distributed.

The FY2023 budget is $20.7 million. This is approximately $572,000 or 2.8% higher than FY2022 estimate. FY2023 budget reflects the COVID-19 recovery from the low collection received in FY2021 as bars and restaurants are fully re-opened.

The following graph shows the seven-year comparison of the City’s mixed beverage tax revenue.

Franchise Fees

Franchise fees are paid by companies, entities, or persons for the privilege of using public property for private purposes. Franchise agreements have been granted to numerous utilities and other enterprises, either directly by the City of Houston or by the State of Texas, including CenterPoint Energy, AT&T, several cable television firms, and others.

Changes in franchise revenue depend on many factors including economic fluctuations, rate charges, customer usage, franchise agreement changes and legislative actions. In FY2020, franchise revenue for cable and telephone decreased as a result of Texas Senate Bill 1152. This continues to impact the amount of compensation the local municipalities receive from companies that are occupying the rights-of-way to provide both cable/video services and telecommunications services by allowing these providers to pay only one fee.

Electric Franchise

Electric franchise fees are paid to the City for the right to conduct an electric light and power business and to use the City’s rights-of-way for that business.

There are two companies in Houston that pay electric franchise fees: CenterPoint Energy Houston Electric (“CenterPoint”) and Entergy. CenterPoint pays approximately 99.9% of the electric franchise fees paid to the City, which represents approximately $94.7 million per year.

Prior to electric deregulation, which became effective on January 1, 2002, electricity franchise payments were calculated as a percentage of the electric company’s gross revenues from sales to customers located within the City limits. Under this payment formula, electric franchise fees to the City fluctuated from $80 million to as much as $90 million per year.

From January 2002 through June 2005, franchise payments were no longer calculated based on a percentage of gross revenues, but instead were based on kilowatt hour consumption by customers within the City limits. During this period, electric franchise revenues dropped significantly, averaging $75 million each year.

In July 2005, the City and CenterPoint entered into a new franchise agreement for a term of 30 years. The new agreement establishes a base franchise fee to the City of approximately $96 million per fiscal year, payable monthly, which is adjusted annually based on kilowatt hours delivered in the City.

The FY2022 electric franchise fee estimate is $94.6 million. The FY2023 electric franchise fee estimate of $94.7 million is approximately 0.1% higher than the FY2022 estimate. Kilowatt hour consumption for calendar year 2021 was down 1.7% from 2020 due to weather and usage; however, the slight increase in revenue reflects a decrease in the Municipal Account Franchise credits.

The City of Houston exercises original jurisdiction over the rates, operations and services of these electric utilities for the Houston area.

Natural Gas Franchise

Like electric franchise fees, natural gas franchise fees are paid by utilities that use the City’s rights-of-way for the transportation, delivery, sale and distribution of natural gas to customers in the City.

There are two companies in Houston that pay natural gas franchise fees: CenterPoint Energy Resources Corporation (“CenterPoint” – formerly Entex) and SiEnergy L.P. CenterPoint pays approximately 99.9% of the natural gas franchise fees paid to the City, which represents approximately $13.0 million per year.

CenterPoint’s fees are paid monthly and are based on 5% of gross receipts on a rolling 3-year average. For FY2023, franchise fees are based on CenterPoint’s 2019, 2020 and 2021 gross revenues.

The estimate for FY2022 natural gas franchise fees from CenterPoint is approximately $13.1 million. The FY2023 natural gas franchise fee estimate is $13.1 million, unchanged from the FY2022. CenterPoint’s calendar year 2021 revenues were $272.4 million compared to calendar year 2018’s revenues of $274.9 million, a decrease of 0.9%. Although Residential, Transportation account revenues were higher in 2021 compared with 2018, the Commercial, Industrial and Miscellaneous account revenues in 2021 were down 10.2%, 64.4% and 24.4%, respectively, compared to 2018’s accounts, which accounts for the slight decrease in overall revenue.

The graph below provides a seven-year comparison of the City’s natural gas franchise fee revenue.

The City of Houston exercises original jurisdiction over the rates, operations and services of these natural gas utilities for the Houston area.

Telephone Franchise

Since deregulation of this industry in 2000, the telephone franchise fee paid to municipalities in Texas is derived by applying an “access line rate,” assigned by the Public Utilities Commission of Texas (PUCT) and adjusted annually for inflation. The access line rates that is in effect during FY2023 are as follows: residential ($1.94); non-residential ($6.53); and point-to-point ($18.41).

The FY2022 estimate for telephone franchise fee is $19.5 million. The FY2023 projection of $17.8 million is a 8.7% decrease from FY2022 estimate due to the continued impact of SB 1152 and the long-term decline in access lines sold by the industry to consumers.

The following graph below provides a seven-year comparison of the City’s telephone franchise fee revenue.

Cable TV Franchise Fees

Currently, Comcast Cable and Suddenlink are the cable television/video service-providers operating in Houston under state-issued certificates of franchise authority that pay the City of Houston 5% of their gross revenues from sales to Houston customers under the terms of the state franchise. The largest of these franchises is Comcast, which accounts for approximately 95.9% of the total cable franchise revenue projection for FY2023. The FY2023 projection of $12.5 million remains unchanged from the FY22 estimate.

Solid Waste Hauler Franchise Fees

Solid waste haulers pay fees to compensate the City for the use of City streets. Approximately 125 active solid waste hauler franchises pay 4% of gross revenues from transporting commercial solid and industrial wastes that originate within the City limits. The FY2023 estimate of $8.6 million, a slight increase in revenues as a result of projected growth of the industry.

Other Revenues

Licenses and Permits

The Licenses and Permits category includes such items as special fire, food dealer, burglar alarm, dumpster permits, and many other permits. The FY2023 revenue is estimated at $33.1 million, which is 0.6% lower than the FY2022 estimate.

Ambulance Fees

City of Houston Code of Ordinance Chapter 4 permits the City to provide Emergency Medical Services including ambulance transport to the public and permits the City to partially recover the cost of providing those services. The base and variable fee structure is addressed under Section 4.13.

The City contracts with a third-party vendor for the billing and collection of Emergency Medical Services. The revenue projection for Emergency Medical Services provided by the City of Houston for FY2023, which is impacted by COVID-19, is $53.1 million. This is $130,000 higher than the FY2022 estimate of $53.0 million.
