Complete Communities
Action Plan for Safer Streets Pilot

Safe, walkable streets are a core component of Mayor Turner’s Complete Communities initiative. Working with community groups, the City of Houston will target key corridors and intersections in Complete Communities’ neighborhoods for quick-delivery street enhancements. Such projects will improve safety for pedestrians, cyclists and other street users.

What would the safety solutions look like?
The City of Houston will develop a street safety toolkit of options that can be implemented in any area. Interventions currently being considered for the toolkit include:
- New and/or expanded sidewalk space
- Shortened crossing distances and improved visibility at intersections
- Changes to traffic signal operations
- Bike lanes
- Transit stop improvements including bus shelters and signage
- New or enhanced crosswalks
- Evaluation of street lighting conditions

How will the City choose locations?
The Departments of Planning & Development and Public Works & Engineering are currently analyzing crash and safety data in each of the Complete Communities’ neighborhoods. The City will review recommendations from existing plans and studies and will work with the Complete Communities Neighborhood Support Teams (NST) to identify residents’ concerns. After the outreach and analysis phase, the City will work with communities to identify pilot locations for the first phases of the street safety plan.

When will we see these changes on the street?
The City will work with communities to identify street safety projects during Summer 2017 and implement the street designs on a rolling basis. Data will be collected on each location both before and after any interventions in order to better inform residents of the impacts of the program. Not every potential project may be selected and timing may depend on funding and other factors.

How do I get more information?
Each community has a team of dedicated City employees that will work with each neighborhood in the Complete Communities planning process. Team contacts are listed below.
