

Join us at the Houston History Association's Third Annual Houston History Conference

ROGUES, RASCALS, AND ROLE MODELS:

Famous and Infamous Residents of the Bayou City

May 4, 2013, 8:30 A.M. – 3:30 P.M.

Julia Ideson Building—Houston Public Library,
550 McKinney

Keynote Speaker: Rick Casey, award winning journalist and host of Texas Week

Morning speakers: James L. Haley, author and historian; Joseph A. Pratt, Ph.D., University of Houston; and Melissa Kean, Ph.D., Rice University

Registration: Visit www.houstonhistoryassociation.org for registration fees and special pricing for teachers, students, seniors, exhibitors and sponsors.

Major sponsors:  Humanities Texas,  The Summerlee Foundation,  Texas Historical Foundation, with additional support from (as of March 1, 2013) University of Houston Center for Public History, Houston History Magazine, The City of Houston, Houston Public Library, The Lancaster Hotel & The Lusk Family, The Heritage Society at Sam Houston Park, Texas State Historical Association, and Houston Independent School District. The Lancaster Hotel is the official hotel partner for HHA; contact for special rates.

Photo credit: Houston Metropolitan Research Center. The Houstonians in the photograph are not necessarily representative of the conference topics, but may be included.