

Leading in Learning

The Office of Talent & Organizational Development believes that empowered, focused, and collaborative learners are the critical catalysts for meaningful change in the workplace. In order to make significant progress that drives innovation, the Office of Talent & Organizational Development offers unparalleled access to cutting-edge training, and provides Houston's workforce with invaluable real-world experience by leveraging our resources and capabilities along with those of our partners.

Did you know?

Despite delaying their college education, non-traditional college graduates, defined here as those who earn their degree at age 25 or older, have personal incomes later in life that are similar to those of traditional graduates, or those who earn their degree before age 25.
