MacGregor is a collection of neighborhoods on both sides of Brays Bayou east of the Texas Medical Center. The area became home to many of Houston’s African-American professionals during the 1950s and 1960s. At that time some large homes were demolished or converted to commercial uses. As a result some parts of the community include stately homes interspersed with small motels and deteriorated apartments. Some subdivisions, notably Timbercrest, University Oaks and Riverside Terrace along South MacGregor, retain their gracious residential characteristics and contain numerous examples of outstanding architecture.
